

Dessert For Those Who Are Still Hungry!

South Hill Bible Church, August 22, 2021

1. Of the spheres that the Bible references where God has delegated authority to other humans, which sphere is the hardest for you to submit: marriage, family life, church life, work life, governmental/political life? Why do you think that is?
2. How does the command, "Be subject," make you feel? Do you respond with an immediate resistance? Why?
3. How can Christians know if or when they should not subject themselves to these authorities? What guidelines might give us insight?
4. When those in authority are not acting to protect/bless those who are doing right and punish those who are doing wrong, what recourse do we have? Is it wrong to seek to correct the abusive situation? Can you give Scriptural support.
