8 Owe nothing to anyone—except for your obligation to love one another. If you love your neighbor, you will fulfill the requirements of God’s law. 9 For the commandments say, “You must not commit adultery. You must not murder. You must not steal. You must not covet.” These—and other such commandments—are summed up in this one commandment: “Love your neighbor as yourself.” 10 Love does no wrong to others, so love fulfills the requirements of God’s law...14 Clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ...
Romans 8, NLT

1. Circle all the places that “love” occurs. Put a box around the word “neighbor.” Underline the phrase “fulfill(s) the requirements of God’s law.”
2. “Neighbor” literally means “someone near.” Who are the people God has brought near to you who are going through a difficult time, the people He’s asking you to love sacrificially?

Would you be willing to pray for them for the next thirty days?

3. How does loving one another in dependence on the indwelling power of the risen Christ fulfill all the other “one another” commands?
4. Admit your inability to love others as Christ loved you. Confess your tendency to try in your own strength to accomplish what only is possible by the power of the indwelling life of Jesus. Yield yourself to God for his purposes and thank him for what he will do through you.
